Description of position: (include experience requested, wages, hours, duties, etc.)

The Pet Dentist at Tampa Bay is looking for a full-time veterinary technician for its specialty practice in dentistry and oral/maxillofacial surgery located in Largo, FL. The ideal candidate will have a passion for dentistry, experience with anesthesia monitoring and patient management during the peri-operative period. Prior experience with monitoring/assisting during surgical procedures is beneficial. This candidate may be a licensed or certified veterinary technician (LVT or CVT), but certification is not a requirement for the position. All procedures in the practice are performed under general anesthesia. Technician duties include interfacing with clients by phone and in-person, patient admission, clinic organization, professional teeth cleaning, and assisting with dental and surgical procedures along with patient monitoring. In addition to a competitive hourly wage based on experience, benefits include a health insurance stipend, paid vacation and sick leave, retirement benefits, paid continuing education, no weekend or on-call responsibilities, uniform allowance, and more with full time status.

Applicants should email a letter of interest and resume including references to thepetdentist@gmail.com. Select applicants will be invited for a working interview
